REAFFIRM ACTION CALLING PRIMARY

By a Committee Vote of Eleven to One.

A RAISE IN ASSESSMENTS Of Candidates of 25 Per Cent —Will Meet Again March 3.

TALK OF PUTTING OFF VOTE

Rumors that a change was to be made from the primary to the convention plan of nominating candidates for State offices were effectively set at rest at the meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee at the Louisville Hotel, in Louisville, Friday. By a vote of 11 to 1 that body reaffirmed its action of December 22 last in calling a primary, and its subsequent action of February 4 in including the senatorial race in the primary. It also voted unanimously to raise the assessment for all offices 25 per cent, over the amount fixed at the meeting two weeks before.

An adjournment was taken until Friday, March 3, by which time the committee will endeavor to have the call for the primary in legal form and decide on the date for the closing of entries. It was for these purposes the meeting was held Friday, but it was found that the sub-committee had not prepared the call in proper legal form. A. G. Rhea, secretary of the sub-committee, reported that William A. Young, the chairman, and M. J. Meagher, the third member, had both been absent on account of illness for the past two weeks, and that he had not been able to prepare the call himself. In view of this statement it was decided to postpone the meeting two weeks and to give the subcommittee additional help in framing the call. Henry R. Prewitt, chairman of the Executive Committee, and W. P. McDonough, the Fifth district member, both of whom are lawyers, were named to prepare the call and have it ready for adoption at the end of that period.

The only other business transacted by the committee Friday was to fix the assessment for the senatorial race at $3,500, and to lower the assessment in the Governor's race from $4,000 to $3,000. Later these, with all other assessments, were raised 25 per cent.

Much disappointment was expressed at the close of the meeting by aspirants for various nominations over the fact that the committee did not fix the date for the closing of entries.

It was this feature that brought practically every aspirant for nomination to Louisville, and when it was announced that the executive body had been unable to draft a suitable call, following a session of more than two hours, several of the aspirants stated they would return to their homes and make no further canvass until the question had been definitely settled.

Although no definite confirmation could be had, it was reported that the question of changing the date of the primary from May 27 to some date in June or July was brought up in the committee and that, as it was not definitely acted upon, it likely will be discussed again at the meeting March 3. It was said to be the opinion of some of the members of the committee that in view of the fact that the committee will not fix the time of closing the entries for another two weeks, the period for the aspirants for nominations to make a thorough canvass of the State will be entirely too short. For that reason, it was urged that the date of the primary be changed to some time the latter part of June or the early part of July. It was stated after the meeting that several of the aspirants for nominations were in favor of changing the date of the primary from May 27 to a date a month or six weeks later. None of those seen, however, would confirm the report, each of them saying that the only thing he desired to know was not when the primary would be held, but when the entries would close.

The fight to have the primary called off and a convention called instead to name the candidates, was started immediately after the committee went into session by Sam T. Spalding, from the Fourth district. It proved to be a forlorn hope, however, as it was impossible to get a second to the motion. After this effort, a motion to reaffirm the action of the committee at the two previous meetings was made and previous seconded, and carried by a vote of eleven to one, Committeeman Spalding voting against the motion.

The motion to postpone action on the call for the primary for two weeks was vigorously opposed by Committeeman Goodson, of the Second district, and Spalding, of the Fourth, both of whom contended that it was up to the committee to enlighten the aspirants for nominations as well as the Democratic voters as to just when the entries to the primary would close. It was claimed by Mr. Spalding that much time had been wasted by the committee in deciding a question which was of the utmost importance to the people of the State, and that the longer the matter was delayed by the committee, the greater amount of harm it would do to the party. With ten members of the committee, however, in favor of the adjournment for two weeks, and the appointment of the two legal members to assist the subcommittee in preparing its report, the motion carried with only two dissenting votes.

SPEAKER CANNON, WHO WILL GO WAY BACK AND SIT DOWN

TIME'S nearly up for Uncle Joe in the speaker's chair. He has been there almost eight years, so long that he has grown fast to the seat, but Champ Clark is going to break him loose from that high and mighty place and tell him to go way back and sit down in an ordinary congressman's chair. Cannon will do it with his customary smile, for he is a game old fellow and can take his medicine like a good patient who minds what the doctor says. Mr. Cannon comes from Danville, where just now there is an investigation of wholesale vote buying. Danville and vicinity seem to be vying with Adams county, O., in a contest to determine which can open the jack pot as the champion vote selling community. But that has nothing to do with "the subject of this sketch," as some writers would put it. Joseph Gurney Cannon always got plenty of votes to return him to congress without buying them, and he seems still to be a popular favorite with his old friends back home.

And Notes Causes Big Coal Company to Make An Assignment.

HENDERSON, Ky., Feb. 16.—The Southern Coal and Transportation Company, capitalized at $500,000, doing a general coal and mining business at Robards, this county, filed a deed of assignment to-day for the benefit of its creditors. John W. Miller, of Grafton, W. Va., is named as the assignee.

The unsecured claims amount to $1,875, while the total of the priority claims is $107,657. The property consists of 64 acres of surface, 7,796.26 acres of coal rights, together with the shaft and other personality. The company paid $350,000 for the property two years ago.

RUSSIA MAKING READY FOR WAR WITH CHINA

Six Demands Are Made—Due to China's Alleged Violation of Treaty.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Feb. 18.—The strained relations between Russia and China have finally resulted in decisive action by the Russian government. According to instructions, M. Korotovitz, the Russian minister to China, has presented to that government a note bearing on the treaty of 1881, which China seems disposed to abrogate. The note contains six points and Russia insists upon compliance on pain of complete cessation of friendly relations. These are as follows:

First—Russia's right to impose import and export duties unlimited except in the fifty verst zone, which is duty free.

Second—That the extra territorial rights of Russians in China shall not be infringed; that legal suits involving Russians and Chinese shall be considered by a mixed jurisdiction.

Third—Russians shall enjoy special privileges of trade and duty free commerce in Mongolia and the extra wall provinces.

Fourth—That Russian consulates can be immediately opened at Koko, Khami and Cuchen.

Fifth—Due respect of the local authorities for Russian consuls.

Sixth—Russians to enjoy the right to acquire real estate and erect structures in Mongolia and the extra wall provinces.

Other Powers Notified.

London, England, Feb. 16.—Russia to-day notified the government of Great Britain, France and Germany of her intentions to make a military demonstration on the Russo-Chinese frontier.

Russian troops will be sent forthwith to the district of Ili. The extent of the demonstration, it is added in the diplomatic note, will depend entirely upon the attitude assumed by China.

WILL BURY 16 BODIES TO BE SURE OF ONE

Salt Lake City, Feb. 18.—Sixteen friendless foreigners will share the grave of Hugh McGuire in Calvary Cemetery, in this city, as the result of a woman's desire to give dignified burial to her son.

Hugh McGuire was foreman of a crew of Italians and Greeks, which suffered extermination in the powder explosion at Devil's Slide last summer. The bodies of the dead were so commingled that identification was impossible. The fragments were interred together at Morgan, Utah.

The mother of Foreman McGuire, after making every effort to identify the remains of her son, applied to the Morgan county authorities for permission to bury all that was found of the 17 explosion victims. Her request was granted, and the reburial will take place to-day, with appropriate rites. A costly monument will mark the resting place of the victims.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY WIFE'S ILLNESS

Hodgenville, Ky., Feb. 16.—His wife's illness is believed to have furnished motive for John Jamison, aged forty-five years, to blow out his brains with a revolver at his home here to-night. The tragedy occurred shortly after supper.

Jamison, who was a foreman for the Kosmos Cement Company, appeared despondent when he came home from work this afternoon. He hardly touched his supper, but it was believed the illness of his wife was preying on his mind.

The children, three of them under twelve years, finishing their meal, ran out into the yard to play. Shortly afterward they heard two pistol shots and ran back to the house.

They found their father prostrate on the floor, two gaping bullet holes in his temple, a revolver in his right hand. Their mother's body lay nearby beside the father's. The wife had gotten out of a sick bed, on hearing the shots, rushed to her husband and fainted before reaching him.

GOVERNMENTAL EVILS AGAIN

Discussed in a Masterful Manner.

ETERNAL WORK AND VIGILANCE

Is the Price of Good Government—The Duty of Every Citizen.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

(Second of a series of articles on governmental policies, written expressly for The Herald.)

While our Constitutional Convention was assembled, France and England were furnishing striking examples of the evils of extremes of centralization and decentralization. England was sacrificing Personal Liberty upon the altar of Peace and Order, thus warning the advocates of Liberty—among the ablest of whom were Jefferson and Henry—of the dangers of centralized federal power, while, upon the other hand, France was immolating Peace and Order upon the bloody altar of Personal Liberty, inspiring Hamilton with mistrust of the people's ability to govern themselves.

These founders, weighted down with the solemn responsibilities of their undertaking, well knew that Egypt, Babylon, Persia, Greece and Rome had tried every system human ingenuity could devise, from Farming out the public offices to the highest bidder, to the foulest despotisms; from Aristocracies and Republics to anarchy and chaos. They themselves had tried Confederacy and Roger Williams a Pure Democracy. From these rich stores, so replete of experience and example, they built up a system that stand as the wonder and admiration of mankind, founded upon the eternal principles of free conscience, equal opportunity reward of effort and the human rights of property, the basic rock upon which the magnificent superstructure securely rests. Shall we, then, abandon or even experiment with this priceless legacy, wrought with Heaven's favor from the composite wisdom and experience of the world and chastened by the reddest blood of every nation in every age known in our annals? It seems to be the "fate of nations that their constitutional liberties shall be baptized in blood."

Under its beneficent provisions, all our rights are secure and all our talents set free. Predatory wealth and corporate greed may be restrained; grafting, malfeasance and extravagance suppressed. But this can only be done by, at least, a working majority of united, good and true citizens, with the single-minded purpose of greatest good to the greatest number; who have no axes to grind, no favors to ask but the untrammeled right and liberty to work out, single-handed, their own destinies; must give a share of their time and talent to the commonwealth, that faithful and efficient servants may represent us in places of trust; that we may fully know the public needs, and that we may enforce these just demands with a strong, well-defined, clean-cut public sentiment, which the veriest demagogue or scoundrel dares not violate. "With public sentiment," says Lincoln, "nothing can fail; without it, nothing can succeed, and he who moulds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes or pronounces decisions."

A little concert of action and purpose of a little coterie of resolute men, armed with an intelligent ballot and supported by public opinion, can clean out from public office more drones, grafters and political bums than all our courts. External work, as well as vigilance, is the price of good government, and not till we realize the weight of responsibility resting upon the private citizen, whose obligations to his country, while not so numerous as those to his family, are more binding; not till like Pericles, we feel that every Athenian who neglects his share of public affairs inflicts an injury upon his country, shall we ever see the reforms of which we are so fond of dreaming.

See what deterrent force in sound public opinion! Who dares oppose it? The evil-doer may hope to evade our courts of common law, but that of public opinion, never! But it takes time, labor and thought to maintain it upon principles of wisdom and justice. If the average citizen would take the time to familiarize himself with our public men, needs and measures, go to the polls and fearlessly vote his judgment—all of which is a duty he cannot neglect without paying heavy toll—the occupation of the blatherskites, grafters and cranks, like Othello's, would be forever gone.

But so long as we follow their lead, letting them do our thinking and voting, they will prey upon the misfortunes of the people and fester our neglected institutions.

Webster declared: "Knowledge is the only fountain of both the love and principles of human liberty." Barnave says: "Republics have but one evil to dread—that of corruption." Edmund Burke once said: "When bad men combine, good men must associate, else they will fall, one by one, an unpitied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle." It was Andrew Jackson who said: "I never allow myself to forget that when an individual enters society, some share of liberty must be given up to preserve the rest." The stream can't be pure if the fountain be corrupt. An ideal government solely depends upon an ideal citizenship. It can't be better; it will never be worse.

The most a government can do is to protect our lives, liberties, pursuits and property, while we, independently, self-reliantly, work out our own individual destiny. We must support it. It can't support us; this is not its function. Indeed, it would be a degradation, and the many thing would be to scorn its charity if it could. When Webster was asked what was the paramount issue of human life, he replied: "Individual responsibility." What volumes cast into one short sentence! How it glows with vital force! Fully comprehended and carried out, it would solve all our intricate social problems. It would demonstrate the economic truth that there is no real conflict between Capital and Labor; that being mutually dependent, they are naturally the best of friends; that it is remorseless human greed, not capital or labor, that breeds the apparent antagonism. It would warn human greed that the sacred rights of labor are infinitely above constitutional or statutory law, because they are inherent and universal.

It would show the moneyed interests that there can be no real prosperity without the prosperity of labor. Boom labor and you boom the earth, and he who would starve the goose that lays the golden egg is just a plain, common, everyday fool. It would teach us what the Greeks knew:—that the welfare of every child in the commonwealth, however poor or degraded, is a matter of great moment to every citizen; because an injury to one is a like injury to all, and conversely, the good of one is the good of all. It would impress upon labor that the rights of prosperity, honorably acquired, are inviolable and must be respected. Lincoln said: "Labor should be united, but not to war upon property or its owner. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one of his own. No grievance justifies mob law and they who take such appeals for redress are sure to pay the cost."

Criminal neglect of a public duty, charged with the weight of sovereignty, a personal neglect for which we cannot hold our system of government in any way responsible, is the source of all our political troubles. Blind partisan politics, a condition of mind at once unworthy of and dangerous to a republic, beclouds our sense of duty, and upon which the demagogue plays as if upon a harp, will defeat all efforts at reforms. Victims of the designing who feed and fatten upon our weaknesses, aping our virtues and pandering to our vices, what little strength left us is shrewdly divided by appeals to our prejudices and passions. Thus defeated, the principles of representative government imperiled if not destroyed, the discouraged voter resumes his heavy task of paving the taxes and self support, while the victorious grifter honeycombs every public department, and steals billions of our hard earnings—all of which is to the last degree penny wise and pound foolish. Shall we pull ourselves together and do our public duty, proving ourselves worthy of a system of self government, or shall we abjectly lie down upon our job?

What a humiliating comment upon our standard of citizenship, these grave conditions reveal! Jefferson, Henry and all that host of mighty patriots who re-echoed to us a country boundless in wealth and measureless in resources and a system of government refined from the best blood and brains of all the ages, had more confidence in our intelligence, patriotism and love of duty than we are justifying. Are we, after an hundred and fifty years of probation, to confirm the fears of Hamilton? After all, can it be that a benevolent monarchy is the best form of government we deserve? Must we turn to a "New Nationalism," which is but the opposite extreme of the arc and quite as destructive to the representative character of our system and which is but a recurrence to that irrevocable change against which Patrick Henry so solemnly warned us? Is the nation to perish, not by a catastrophe but by slow decadence? XX

SPECIAL NOTICE
In regard to
OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS
OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written at the behest of lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of two cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word, straight. This is the smallest rate we charge for anything and is only one-fifth of our regular rate. The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through one cent per word.

Our old rule in regard to Obituaries, &c. was 150 words free, balance a cent a word, but this did not prove satisfactory because the bounds were almost always overstepped, and we have been forced to adopt this new rule, which is in effect from now on. Contributors will please remember.

If troubled with indigestion, constipation, no appetite or feel bilious, give Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets a trial and you will be pleased with the result. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all dealers.

Answered.

Harry Thurston Peck, the brilliant critic, was praising Lincoln at a dinner in New York.

"Lincoln, himself a superb writer," said Prof. Peck, "could not stand tedious writing in others. He once condemned for its tediousness a Greek history, whereupon a diplomatic took him to task.

"The author of that history, Mr. President," he said, "is one of the profoundest scholars of the age. Indeed, it may doubted whether any man of our generation has plunged more deeply in the sacred fount of learning."

"Yes, or come up drier," said Lincoln."

CONVICTING BURLY HUSBAND

Child Wife's Words Indict
Convict Spouse for Alleged Perjury.

MOTHER MADE HER MARRY HIM

Kenton, Feb. 16.—Holding a doll baby tightly in her arms, Grace Strahm Jones, aged 14 years, child-wife of John Jones, aged 42, an ex-convict, appeared before the grand jury and gave the testimony that caused Jones to be indicted for perjury. Next week the child will appear against Jones in Common Pleas Court, and her testimony is expected to send Jones to the penitentiary.

Six weeks ago Jones appeared at the Probate Court and secured a license to marry Grace Strahm. He swore, it is charged, the girl was 16 years of age. The Humane Society caused Jones to be arrested on a charge of perjury, claiming the girl is only 14 years old.

In the preliminary hearing Jones swore that Mrs. Strahm, the girl's mother, told him if he promised to keep the whole family he could have Grace. Grace Strahm was in jail on Christmas Day, held as a delinquent child. Asked what she wanted for Christmas, she said she wanted a "dolly." It was given her. Soon after she was taken to the Delaware Industrial Home.

Yesterday the Jones case was investigated by the grand jury, and the girl was brought here from Delaware and insisted on bringing along her doll. She did not want to lose the doll, she said, as it was the nicest one she had ever had.

When the child appeared in the jury room the jurors were visibly affected. Tears came to the eyes of some of the men as the child said her mother told her she must marry Jones. "Don't let him have me," she said.

"Noah, I've always wanted to see you and to tell you that you are all right. If it hadn't been for you I'd never have amounted to a thing."

"And who may you have been?" asked Noah.

LOOKING AHEAD FOR 1,000 YEARS

Great Wonders of the Future Predicted.

LANGUAGES WILL BE UNKNOWN

As Universal Tongue Will Prevail—Electricity Will be all Powerful.

CAMILLE FLAMMARION'S TALK

Within the next 1,000 years the population of Europe will have increased from 375,000,000 to 700,000,000, that of Asia from 875,000,000 to 1,000,000,000; that of N. and South America from 120,000,000 to 1,500,000,000, that of Africa from 75,000,000 to 200,000,000, that of Australia from 5,000,000 to 60,000,000, the whole population thus rising from 1,450,000,000 to 3,360,000,000.

Languages will be almost unknown. The ceaseless progress of science and industry will have almost altered the face of the English language, which in its new form will be spoken as a quasi-universal tongue throughout the globe. War will disappear soon after we have reached the year 2,000.

A republican form of government will come to prevail universally.

A single-money currency will prevail throughout the globe. There will be one universal meridian—that of Greenwich—and the hours will be calculated from one to twenty-four. Meteorology will become as exact a science as astronomy, and the experts of 2911 A. D. will be able to foretell the weather almost to a raindrop, a snow flake or a ray of sunshine.

Electricity will, of course, have taken the place of steam, but the most popular mode of transportation from one point to another will be by dirigible balloon. The sea will be brought to Paris by means of a vast canal, and electric ships will arrive at the French capital from the Atlantic and from the Pacific by way of Panama.

London will be connected with Paris by a rapid transit underground railroad. The Mediterranean will be joined to the Atlantic by a canal issuing at Bordeaux, and compressed air tubular trains will connect Spain and Portugal with Northern Africa.

There will be telephone connection between all the inhabitants of the earth, and telephonoscopy will enable the tired citizen of Chicago to listen to the Caruso or Tetzlazzi of the day in Paris or London or see the great operas or dramas enacted.

Human slavery or domestic service will be unknown, and trained ourang-outangs or chimpanzees will do all man's housework for him. Chemical synthesis will have done away with all the trouble of cooking elaborate dishes. Gluttony will be unknown, and men and women will entertain each other in conservatories, the banquet consisting of compressed viands or delicacies served on silver trays, the tabloid melting in one's mouth and doing away with the vulgar necessity of mastication, but giving, nevertheless, the same results, if not much superior, as far as digestion is concerned.

The human body will also undergo strange enough transformations. The head, for example, will be larger, the body smaller, as a result of

How Old People May Prolong Their Lives

At advanced age the organs act more slowly than in youth. Circulation becomes poor, blood thin and watery, appetite failing, and digestion weak. This condition leaves the system open to disease such as Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, etc.

VINOL is the greatest health creator and body builder we know for old people, as it supplies the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissue and replace weakness with strength.

A case is recorded in Albany, N. Y., of a woman who felt she was breaking down by age and was doomed to the weak and feeble condition of old people. She had no strength and the slightest exertion tired her, but VINOL made her well and strong, and it is stated that she was never stronger than she did before taking VINOL.

We ask every aged person in this neighborhood to try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that we will return their money if it does not prove beneficial.

the decrease in manual labor, the increase in intellectuality, the nature of the dietary and the greater intelligence shown in the selection of life partners.

Going still further into the future, for the world has still at least 10,000,000 of years to run, it is certain that the human being of the year 10,000 A. D. will be an individual of small stature and a peculiar whitish skin texture. The anthropologist of the remote future will be able to discern in him all the attributes which in a scheme of progressive civilization would ultimately characterize the descendants of the Anglo-Saxon of to-day and the Chinaman. Further on—in the year 20,000 A. D.—the human species will have ceased to resemble physically the monkeys and morally the carnivorous. Once the notions of brute force and injustice disappear, man will become ideal. [New York American.]

REMINISCENCES OF CIVIL WAR TIMES

Incidents in the Welfare of the 9th Kentucky—Work of Faulty Train Brake.

Beaver Dam, Ky., Nov. 15. Editors Herald:—As my war story of recent date was of interest to some of your readers, I will relate another story enacted by the Ohio county boys on the Confederate side of the Civil War.

After the battle of Murfreesboro, fought in the winter of 1862, the Army of Tennessee retired to Tennessee, where they went into camp for the winter, leaving the 9th Ky. Regiment at Manchester, where we remained till spring. Here we enjoyed camp life fine, attending parades and concerts. When spring opened, our regiment, with the balance of the brigade, was ordered out the Murfreesboro Pike to Beech Grove, half way between Manchester and Murfreesboro, soon followed by Gen. Hardin's corps, remaining there about a month. Then it was rumored that Gen. Grant had surrounded Vicksburg and our division was ordered to Mississippi to reinforce Gen. Jackson, who was raising an army at Jackson to extricate Gen. Pemberton, whom Grant had surrounded in Vicksburg.

So one beautiful evening in May we were marched to Wartrace, a station on the railroad. Gen. Breckinridge briefly informed us that he was ordered with his division back to Mississippi, but the Commanding General informed him as the Kentucky boys might have a chance some day, by remaining in Tennessee, to march back to their native State, it would be left to us whether we go with our General or not. It was left to a vote of the brigade and they voted unanimously to share the fate of our General. We knew there was nothing but privations and hardships for us, so once more we started back to the pine woods of Mississippi, and with some of the boys, it was the last time they ever saw their home.

That evening we took the train, it being a long one, and only one brake on it. Passing over the Cumberland Mountains and going down grade, the brake broke, causing a wreck that wounded several of our company. Andy Kirtley, Kirk Reid and Jim Walthall were so badly wounded that they were left at Atlanta in a hospital. Jim Walthall never returned, having died from the effects of his wounds. After being on the train four days and nights, we landed in Jackson, Miss., and camped on the same ground we had left one year before.

RICH PLUMS GO TO DEMOCRATS

When the Next Congress Convenes.

A PATRONAGE OF $1,000,000

Per Year Will Throw Open 578 Jobs to Many Eager Applicants.

SOME PIE FOR KENTUCKIANS

Washington, Feb. 18.—When the next Congress convenes—whether in March or next December—the Republicans will turn over to the Democrats more than $1,000,000 a year in patronage. Employees of the House to the number of 578, now Republicans, will be succeeded by Democrats. The total annual salary of these 578 is $744,333. Add to this sum the salaries of eighty-four secretaries of eighty-four new Democratic members at $1,500 each and the million is accounted for.

South Trimble, of Kentucky, who will probably be the next House Clerk, has seventy-five offices at his disposal—an annual salary list of $133,990. Among these are a chief clerk at $4,500, a journal clerk at $4,000, two reading clerks at $4,000, and seventy other employees.

Speaker Champ Clark has eighteen appointees, among them a secretary at $4,000; a parliamentary at $3,600; a messenger at $1,400; six reporters of debate at $5,000 each and one assistant reporter at $2,500; four committee stenographers at $5,000 each and an assistant committee stenographer at $2,000.

The next Sergeant-at-Arms has 100 offices to fill, thirty-eight of which are Capitol policemen, with an annual pay roll of $84,665.

To the doorkeeper, who will probably be Joe Sinnott, of Virginia, 211 offices, with an annual salary of $203,905, fall as plunder. This does not include special messengers.

It is likely that the present blind chaplain, the Rev. H. C. Couden, will be retained.

In addition to these officers the House must select thirty-nine committee clerks, 233 assistant committee clerks; twenty-two session clerks; three stenographers and forty-seven janitors and messengers, all at good salaries. To the committee chairmen will fall many of these plums.

The Kentuckians at present employed on the House side of the Capitol are: E. N. Webber, Capitol policeman; Frank Stansbury, laborer; W. M. Stevens, messenger; J. B. Holloway, clerk, and M. E. Bagley, session clerk. The latter is also secretary to Representative D. C. Edwards. Next year Bluegrass citizens will fare far better.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE LIGHT OF FIREFLIES — HOW IT IS PRODUCED

A study of the luminescence of the firefly, and especially of the chemical problems involved, by F. Alex McDermott, of Washington, D. C., has brought forward several very interesting points.

So far as is now known, says this investigator, two constant chemical factors, water and oxygen, are necessary for the production of light by a living organism. The third necessary factor, the substance oxidizable, may be, and probably is, variable. The luminous organ of the firefly consists of two layers of material under the outer transparent covering. The inner of these two layers consists mainly of guanine, a compound similar to uric acid, and this probably serves as a reflector. The outer layer consists of a mass of cells, normally of a pale yellow color. Both layers are penetrated by innumerable minute tracheae (ducts) which unite in the interior of the insect to form larger passages and run together in the outer layer of yellow cells, forming a network somewhat resembling the finer veining of a leaf.

It is practically certain that in life these passages are filled with air, and it seems probable that the photogenic process is accompanied by the evolution of carbon dioxide and the consumption of the oxygen of the air. [Popular Mechanics.]

NEGRO BAND AWAITED

CALL OF LYNCHERS

Jail at Stanford Surrounded by Armed Blacks To Protect Farmers' Assailants.

Stanford, Ky., Feb. 17.—Believing a mob of incensed white men would attack the two negroes confined in the jail here and attempt to lynch them for wounding and robbing three white tobacco men on the Danville pike Monday night a gang of about 15 negroes from Macksville, the negro settlement here, stood guard with pistols and shotguns near the jail until after 3 o'clock this morning.

They built a bonfire in the street back of the court house, and several shots were heard from their camp during the night. All of the armed negroes wore white handkerchiefs tied on their left sleeves.

In front of the jail entrance stood Sheriff W. L. McCarty and County Judge J. F. Bailey with a force of deputies. Jailer Dink Farmer furnished the prisoners shotguns and pistols to defend themselves if attacked. He had the cell door locked by his son outside, who took the keys away.

The only sign of a mob seen in town, however, was the arrival of two or three horsemen from out on the Somerset pike, in the Highland direction, where D. O. Ballard, E. D. Hatfield and Clarence Deathridge, the white tobacco men who were victims, live. It is thought they reported back the condition here to their friends.

Friends and relatives of the men are greatly incensed over the treatment they received, and public sentiment generally is strong against the negroes.

It has been expected that an examination of the two negroes, Curley Johnson and Louis Gregory, would be held this week, but as Circuit Court convenes next week, and the grand jury will be empaneled on Monday, it was decided to let it handle the cases against the men.

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 22

It is not so important as to which Democrats are nominated as it is that all Democrats should support the nominees of their party.

By all means, the M. H. & E. (or L. & N.) railroad should give us more convenient and better connections between Hartford and the cities of the State. Don't the officials hear our humble cry?

Much has transpired lately to emphasize the importance and need of a general guarantee bank law, guaranteeing the deposits and stability of the institution—a favorite Democratic policy as advocated by Mr. Bryan.

The month will soon be over when the women—God bless 'em—are privileged to talk less than in any month of the whole year. They ought to—and no doubt will—talk fast, for there are now only about seven of the 28 days remaining.

With Harmon of Ohio, and Wilson of New Jersey as President and Vice President, and W. J. Bryan in the U. S. Senate, the Democrats would certainly occupy a fine point of political vantage. It strikes us that this sort of ticket would win, both in elections and in the favor of the people.

The Republicans of Kentucky seem to think that because Mr. Johnson withdrew from the race for Governor, they have the Democratic party by the tail with a down hill pull. They are liable to find out before the idea of November, however, that they have a mule by the ears with an up-hill drag.

The seventeen-year locusts are estimated to be due in New York State this year, and the first grubs are already in evidence. It is said that the locusts make a very edible dish—for those who like that sort of thing—and will no doubt be in considerable demand by those compelled to live under Wall Street's impoverishing influence.

The action of the Democratic State Executive Committee in again setting a time for a meeting of the Committee for definite plans in the nomination of candidates for State offices, was a distinct surprise and afforded only further vexation for the party. The next meeting will be on March 3d. These delay tactics are doing the party in the State much harm and are affording only unfavorable comment by the rank and file, who see no real reason or sense in them.

Judge Edward C. O'Rear is a mighty fine man and all that sort of thing and would make a scrumptuous looking candidate and again some more of that sort of doings, but for the life of us we have never been able to see why he should be held up as such a great bugaboo for the Democrats to fear, avert the gubernatorial race. Democrats have beaten men who had hat bands just as big as his so badly that they didn't know their hair from a mess of raw turnips.

The Washington Post prints an interview with Mr. Percy Haley, a Kentucky Democrat, in which the latter takes a very pessimistic view of his party's affairs here and gives much comfort and cheer to the enemy, among other things asserting that "With O'Rear running, it will be a close race." Several prominent Democrats in Congress promptly came to their party's defense from Haley's slighting remarks. Mr. Haley has been too much honored by his party in Kentucky to assume any such antagonistic attitude without inviting the suspicion of being a traitor.

The Seattle Commercial Club, at Seattle, U. S. A., has organized a movement to aid the starving Chinese, more than a million of whom are starving at this time. Those on the ground and familiar with the situation, state that two dollars contributed now will save the life of some man, woman or child. Contributions of any amount will be accepted and will help in a humanitarian work of the first importance. They should be made to the order of the Seattle Commercial Club, Seattle, Washington, and those contributing may rest assured that their gifts will be used in the most effective and economical way.

The spectacle of one branch of a great deliberative and legislative body—our own Congress—being held up in its sessions by the senseless filibuster tactics of one man, while the costs of the House roll up against the Government, is not one pleasant to contemplate. This is what happened a part of two days last week, when Representative James R. Mann, of Chicago, and a handful of members opposed to the consideration of the omnibus claims bill, a measure full of honest and unpaid Southern debts on the part of the Government, for twenty-six hours prevented action by quibbling, bickering, parliamentary tricks and delays. Plainly, for the benefit of the people who pay the bills, the House rules need changing.

The secretary of the Ohio County Democratic Executive Committee (in the place of the chairman, who resigned some time ago on account of his candidacy for Secretary of State) will call a meeting of the committee to elect a new chairman and transact other important business, just as soon as the Democratic State Executive Committee gets through postponing its meetings and finally settles down to some definite action as regards the party's procedure. The State Committee has again postponed its meeting to March 3d, and it is sincerely hoped, in the interest of the party, that there will be no further delay. In the meantime, Democrats of the county and State will rest on their oars, re-bait their hooks and wait for the muddled political waters to roll by.

WIDESPREAD MOVEMENT FOR STARVING CHINESE

President Taft has issued a proclamation, not as President of the United States, but as President of the Red Cross Society, asking contributions for the relief of the famine stricken region in China. John D. Rockefeller has contributed $5,000 and there have been many contributions from other sources and charitable people are also contributing food stuffs and clothing which will be sent by a U. S. transport to Shanghai and thence up the Yangtze River, where millions of Chinese inhabitants are in dire distress. It is said they are selling their children for food. This, however, is no particular measure of their suffering, because it is common with the Chinese in that part of the world to kill or sell their daughters.

BURLEY SOCIETY MUST STAND TRIAL, SAYS JUDGE

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 18.—The Burley Tobacco Society will have to stand trial, United States Judge Hollister holds, in the civil suit for more than $100,000 damages in which the E. O. Eshelby Tobacco Company has charged that the Burley Society is an illegal combination in violation of the Sherman antitrust law.

This was the decision of Judge Hollister when to-day he overruled a motion made by former Senator Toraker and Attorney Edward Colton to quash the summons made upon Clarence LeBus, president of the Burley Society, when he was staying at the Slaton Hotel on a visit to Cincinnati on personal business.

A similar suit by the Eshelby Company against the Burley Society was knocked out on demurral in Kentucky on points similar to those raised in the arguments before Judge Hollister.

PARTY'S DUTY IS BEING DONE

According to Democratic Pledges.

REPUBLICAN PROMISES FAILED

To be Fulfilled — An Object Lesson That is Worthy of Note.

PEOPLE WILL NOT BE MOCKED

[Written for Mr. Bryan's Column by Champ Clark.]

Towards the close of his heroic career, it was one of the proud boasts of Saint Paul that he had "kept the faith," a boast amply justified by the facts. We Democrats should follow the example and emulate the fidelity of the great apostle, so far as in us lies. Last November we captured one of the three citadels of Republicanism, the House of Representatives; two remain in their possession, the White House and the Senate. The only way we can reasonably hope to make a clean sweep in 1912 is to keep faith with the people absolutely by religiously fulfilling every promise that we made in order to win the House. This should be done as a matter of principle, simply because it is right. Even if we were not willing to do so as a matter of principle, then, when we remember what happened to the Republicans last autumn because they failed to keep faith with the people, we should fulfill our promise as a matter of expediency.

The masses of the people of all parties are honest in their political opinions, and deserve to be treated honestly, fairly, and candidly. They are entitled to that square deal of which we hear so much and see so little. They will not be mocked.

The woeful plight of the Republicans is directly traceable to their broken promises and should be a sufficient warning and object lesson to us. The sin of the Republican party in that regard was as scarlet, and its punishment was swift, severe and deserved.

To obtain prosperity under false pretenses is a penitentiary offense. It's a pity that the same pains and penalties do not attach to obtaining office under false pretenses.

The law not permitting the imprisonment of the Republicans for carrying the election of 1908 by false pretenses, the people gave them a thorough drubbing at the polls in 1910.

We have a golden opportunity coupled with grave responsibilities to us success, not only in 1912 but for years to come, as is easy as falling off a log, and a slimy log at that.

All that we have to do is to fulfill our promises: failing or neglecting to do that, it is back to the wilderness for us. Most assuredly we have had our quantum suffit.

more than our quantum merit of wandering in the wilderness. Men should say what they mean and mean what they say. Normal minds dissent from the immoral dictum that everything is fair in war, love and politics.

The promises most frequently made in the last campaign were:

First. To revise the tariff down to reasonable, or revenue basis.

Second. To abolish Cannonism.

Third. To submit a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote.

Fourth. To cut appropriations to the needs of the Government economically administered.

There are other promises of which I may refer in a future article, but the four which I have mentioned, were, I think, most frequently made and were uppermost in the public mind. Of the four, the revision of the tariff was by long odds the most important.

I am happy to say that Democrats are already carrying out their ante-election promises. We have appointed a Committee on Committees, I cheerfully assisted in that reform, though it will somewhat curtail the power of the Speaker. The House should be a self-governing body and not an autocracy. The establishment of a Committee on Committees, together with other reforms in the rules wrought in this Congress by the coalition of Democrats and insurgent Republicans, has overthrown Cannonism, and will, I believe, be of great benefit in securing good legislation.

At our caucus on January 19, we elected the chairman and the Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means, who are also to constitute the Committee on Committees. We did the unprecedented thing of calling a caucus of the Democrats of the Sixty-second Congress six weeks before the life of that Congress begins, for the purpose of expediting tariff reform promptly, thoroughly and intelligently, and thereby hastening the redemption of our promises. All sorts of lurid prophecies had been indulged in by hostile papers and hostile men about how we would go to pieces at that caucus. As a matter of fact, it was one of the most harmonious caucuses ever held in Washington, a sort of Democratic love-feast, where speech was absolutely free. There was much speech, but it was all in a good natured way. The caucus did much to puzzle and confound our enemies, also much to please and encourage Democrats. So it is clear that we are keeping the faith as to reforming both the tariff and the rules.

Over in the Senate, the Democrats, aided by a handful of insurgent Republicans, are keeping the faith by an honest and earnest endeavor to submit a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote. Of course, the House will pass it with a whoop, as it has done in five Congresses. There never has been a sound or sensible argument advanced against that proposition. The closer every political function is brought to the great body of the people, the better for all concerned. The people can be trusted. There is something wrong with the man afraid to trust them. Such a man is a very unreliable guide, counselor and friend. Should the standpatters defeat this resolution, Democratic legislatures will do the next best thing by adopting the Oregon plan until election by popular vote can be legalized by Congress, which is certain to happen eventually as the sun is to rise again.

In both Houses Democrats are trying to enforce "economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened"—the old and correct Jeffersonian doctrine.

So I report progress to the American people, confident that from time to time I can report more progress—the more the better.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS TOLD BY INSTRUMENTS

New York, Feb. 18.—The seismograph at Fordham University registered an earthquake shock at 2:06 this afternoon. The direction was east and west.

The main shock began at 2:35 and lasted 14 minutes, the heaviest being at 2:38. After-shocks continued until 3:20.

Fordham professors estimate the distance of the disturbance at 6,000 miles.

Washington, Feb. 18.—An earthquake shock fairly severe and lasting over a considerable period was recorded to-day on the seismographs at Georgetown University. Vibrations lasting from 2:31 to 3:03 p. m. were recorded on both the vertical and horizontal machines. Father Torndorf, the scientist in charge of the instruments, estimates the disturbances to be 3,000 miles from Washington.

THE BANK OF HARTFORD EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

The undersigned Stockholders of the Bank of Hartford fully appreciate the many manifestations and expressions of confidence of our patrons, and the public generally, during the past few weeks of financial unrest, and we would seem ungrateful should we neglect to express in a public way our appreciation of the assurances of faith in our bank and the loyalty shown.

It is not from a boastful spirit that we make this publication, for it is prompted by the kindest feeling, and we have the deepest sympathy for all who meet with misfortune, but we consider it proper and due that we take this method of assuring our friends that we are mindful of the confidences reposed in our bank, and that it will be our constant aim to have its affairs conducted and managed in such a manner so that, at all times, it will be in excellent condition, as it was pronounced by Mr. Lon Rogers, State Bank Examiner, upon his examination a short time ago.

We have depositors whose names have been on our books for many years past and we are adding many new names to our Ledger, which fact is evidence that prompt and courteous treatment is accorded to all.

Our depositors' interests are safeguarded not only by conservative management, but have the further protection in the sum of $100,000.00 consisting of our capital of $40,000.00, stockholders' additional liabilities of $40,000.00 and a surplus account of $20,000.00, which gives absolute security to those who deposit with us.

We are justly proud of the co-operation received at the hands of our patrons in building up a good strong bank to serve the people of our county, whose demands we try to meet in a safe and conservative way.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Herald will be found a statement of the condition of our bank as of February 15th, being two months since our statement of December 15th, published upon the call of the Secretary of State. This statement is the evidence of what can be accomplished by the support of loyal friends, for which we are sincerely thankful.

"TUBERCULOSIS DAY" APRIL 30

The Churches of Kentucky to Fight Disease.

THEY HOPE TO ENLIST 250,000

Church Members in the Concerted Effort Against Consumption.

CONCENTRATION OF THOUGHT

April 30th has been set aside this year as "Tuberculosis Day" and will be observed by 200,000 churches in the country in a manner similar to that of "Tuberculosis Sunday" in 1910, when over 40,000 sermons were preached on the prevention of consumption. The Kentucky Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis states that it will make a special effort to enlist every one of over 1,200 ministers in Kentucky to give their co-operation in bringing this vitally important subject before the members of their respective churches. It is estimated that in this way over 250,000 persons in Kentucky will be enlisted in this movement.

In one respect "Tuberculosis Day" of this year will differ from "Tuberculosis Sunday" of 1910. Instead of requesting the churches to give to the Tuberculosis cause a special Sunday service, the State Association is this year going to ask that meetings at which Tuberculosis and its prevention be discussed, be held on Sunday, April 30, or on any day near that date, either in the week preceding or the week following. The object is to get as many people in Kentucky as possible to think about this great problem at the same time.

It is conservatively estimated that there are in Kentucky to-day at least 20,000 persons suffering from this disease in some form or other.

The State Association is planning to distribute educational leaflets in connection with this day and it is earnestly desired that the public will take an active part in stamping out this preventable disease which sends over 6,500 of our citizens to an early grave every year and causes an economic loss to our State of over $13,000,000 annually.

IMPORTANT HISTORY OF SUPREME COURT

The Constitution of 1787 provided for a Supreme Court, and the judiciary act of 1789 prescribed its times of sessions and its rules of procedure. The first chief justice was John Jay. The court began its sessions in 1790. For about 12 years it had little business. It was John Marshall, chief justice from 1801 to 1835, who made the court a greater power in the Government. The influence of his decisions greatly strengthened the Government. The court continued to be composed of Federalists long after that party went out of power in the legislative and executive branches of Government. It consisted at first of the Chief Justice and five associate justices. A sixth was added in 1807, two more in 1837, and a ninth in 1863. From 1863 to 1864, under Chief Justice Taney, the court was Democratic and more inclined to State rights. In the important Dred Scott case it gave a decision favorable to slavery. During the war the court was made Republican. During the conflict between Congress and President Johnson, the former, to prevent him from appointing any Judges, enacted laws which reduced the number of associate justices to seven. In 1870 an eighth was added, by reason of which the court reversed its decision in the legal tender cases. Later the number of justices was increased to nine, which is the case at the present time. The court has been throughout its history the most powerful tribunal of the nineteenth century.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS SUCCESS

First Reports are Showing Promise.

NEED MORE, SAYS HITCHCOCK

Average Amount of Deposits Are Larger Than Under British System.

THE SYSTEM TO BE EXTENDED

Washington, Feb. 18.—"If the necessary appropriations were available, I would establish postal savings banks to-morrow in 500 additional cities and towns of the United States." This statement was made to-night by Postmaster General Hitchcock in view of the reports thus far received concerning the first month's operation of the postal savings system. The reports are most gratifying to Mr. Hitchcock and to the other officers of the postal savings service. They are regarded as demonstrating that the new system already has passed the experimental stage.

A simple way to preserve fresh eggs is to bury them in salt and stand them upright instead of laying them on their sides. In these circumstances they will remain quite good for a whole year.

To preserve unused yolks of eggs put the yolks in a cup or basin, drop a piece of writing paper into cold water, and place over the top of cup or basin. This will prevent the yolks from getting hard and they will keep for days.

A loaf of bread will keep fresh much longer if placed in a covered stone crock. Wrap in a large cloth to exclude air and keep the crock in a cool place. It is nicer than a tin vessel and much better than keeping the bread in the refrigerator.

Do not discard a broom that shows signs of wear. Rather take measures to preserve it. If the broom is soaked regularly in hot suds and put out into the sun to dry, it will get new life and have as much elasticity when half worn as when new.

Whenevver you are baking cookies, pin a piece of muslin over the bread board, stretching it tight. Flour the muslin well and you can roll the dough as soft and thin as you please. A piece of muslin around the rolling pin is still another improvement.

It is not generally known that a slice of lemon put into the kettle when boiling clothes will make them beautifully white and take all the stains out of pocket handkerchiefs and children's dresses. Cut the lemon with the rind into slices, and let it remain in the boiler till the clothes are ready to come out.

A HOME TREATMENT FOR LUNG TROUBLE.

It is a recognized fact that fresh air, plenty of nourishing food and a correct constitutional treatment have done more to cure lung trouble and that weakened, run-down feeling, than all other forms of treatment combined.

A constitutional treatment, to meet all the necessary requirements, must not only kill and remove all the disease germs from the system, but at the same time it must increase the appetite, aid in digestion and assimilation of food, renovate and build up the nervous system and all parts of the body.

Germinal Remedy meets all these requirements and is producing some marvelous results.

If you have consumption in any form, blood disease; if you are troubled with ulcers or chronic sores, coughs, pains in the chest; if you have weak lungs and feel generally run down and weak, write the Ohio Medical Co., Box 95, Columbus, Ohio, and they will send you a full sized bottle of this medicine absolutely free, as a trial, if you will mention the name of Hartford Herald.

GREAT BARGAINS IN SHOWY TITLES

For Those Who Have the Purchase Price.

YOU CAN EASILY BE A DUKE

For $5,000 or a Count for $2,250—Other Titles in Proportion.

SAN MARINO'S GREAT ASSET

These lots for sale: Duke, £1,000; Earl, £750; Marquis, £500; Count, £450; Baron, £250; Knight, £200, and a splendid assortment of orders and decorations at prices ranging from £20 to £500.

Although foreign countries do not thus openly advertise their readiness to do business with those who aspire to affix a handle to their names, the fact is generally recognized that a considerable traffic in titles is carried on.

It is interesting to note, however, that a great deal of the money thus acquired is devoted to charitable works.

The tiny republic of San Marino, for instance, which does a roaring trade in titles of nobility at fixed rates, devotes the greater part of the profits to the maintenance of its founding and orphan asylum.

It will make you and all your heirs, or only your male heirs if such is your desire, a Duke for £1,000, or an Earl for £750.

Italy, too, will make you a Prince or a Duke for £1,000, and a Marquis for £500.

The title of Count will cost you £450, and that of a Baron £250. An idea of the traffic done in titles may be gathered from the fact that a German firm trading in Sweden sends out a circular marked "Private and Confidential," offering to secure any orders and decorations required.

The circular goes on to say that the firm have first-class connections, which enable them to procure such decorations, and that they have been doing big business for the last 30 years.

The list includes Papal honors—for the Pope does a little business, too, and will make you a Count for £450 or a Baron for £250—honors of Persia, Turkey, Spain, Portugal, Italy,

Rumania and Austria, the cost of which vary considerably.

The Portuguese Order of Christ, for instance, according to the list, may be had for between £200 and £300, while the Order of Isabelle of Spain, with a ribbon identical with that of the old Prussian Red Eagle, costs from £200 upwards.

The Austrian Iron Crown runs to £1,000, although the Order of Francis Joseph may be had for half that price.

For £175 to £200 one can secure the well-known Order of Medjidieh, and £180 will purchase the picturesque title of Swedish Knight of the Order of the Polar Star. The orders of St. George vary in price in different countries. In Sicily it costs £75, in Russia £10 more, and in Bavaria more than twice as much, but you may become a Knight of Montenegro for as little as £15.

The King of Greece does rather a prosperous business with the Order of the Redeemer, which can be had for £50, while Servia bestows the Order of Takova for a like sum.

The Prince of Monaco has for disposal the Order of the Star, for which he asks £25, and for £10 less, one can secure the Order of the Sun of Nasreddin from the Shah of Persia.

Although titles cannot be bartered in this country, it is, of course, an open secret that a generous contribution to political funds often paves the way to a place in the peerage.

Apropos of this, it is interesting to note that five years ago Franz Kosuth, the son of the famous patriot, charged the Hungarian Government with receiving no less than £290,000 by selling baronies to wealthy Jews at £20,000 each.

Another phrase of this traffic in titles is revealed by carefully-worded advertisements which have appeared in London papers from time to time, offering for sale the titles of impoverished noble families of France. It is not so long ago since three titles, two of which were French—one a Count and the other a Marquis respectively, and one of an Austrian Prince—were put up for sale in London, the price ranging from £40,000 to £100,000.—[Tit Bits.]

MEXICAN HONEY—A VALUABLE PRODUCT

The exports of honey from Tam-pico to the United States during 1910 amounted to 43,575 gallons, valued at $21,380 gold, an increase of about 66 per cent. over 1909.

The greater part of the honey is the wild product and is brought in satisfaction.

from the Huasteca section and Tuxpan. Among the flowers that are abundant are the century plant and the "lion's tooth," which are much sought after by the bees. A species of mesquite known as alborroba furnishes an abundance of blossoms and a sweet sap, and the bees frequently hive in the hollow trees of this variety. The seasons for gathering honey are from May to July and from September to November.

FARM LIFE AND ITS BIG LESSONS

Found in Common Pastoral Incidents.

HOME SHOULD BE THE CENTER OF ALL THAT MAKES FARM EXISTENCE WORTHY AND ENJOYABLE.

AN APT SERMON IN FEW WORDS

Life on the farm does not consist solely in tilling the soil. Men till the soil that they may live. Laboring as a farmer does, from sunrise to sunset, every day in the year, his toil should secure him conditions conducive to health, to comfort, to happiness, to success in life.

In proportion to the population, the number of farmers is increasing, or put it another way: The number; not more toil but system, plans, methods, organization, that bring increasing much more rapidly.

This makes for the farmers' independence; it will require of him not greater labor but better directed labor; not more toil but system, plans, methods, organization that bring larger rewards for his toil.

The farmer strives to support his family in comfort, to bring up his children well educated, well trained, to take their places in the world.

Evidently this calls for constant thought, for a growth year by year, for additions to the farm machinery and the home comforts that make the place more and more to every inhabitant of it a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Do not sacrifice the home for the farm. The farm exists that the home may exist, may shelter wife and children, may be the center of friendly intercourse and a protection not merely from weather but from the tumult of life, from its sorrows, its disappointments and its inevitable disasters.

As the income of the farmer increases—and the income of every farmer is increasing who labors faithfully and lives temperately—he must study the wise expenditure of this income. He must buy better things that he may save the labor and the health of his wife. He must make life a little less hard for his children. He must get better implements that his own labor, manual and mental, may be more productive.

And he must enlarge his thoughts and interest. His church ought to be the center of great influence, and he ought to think of the school as something next to his home. He should not be content with a broken-down shed with mud and dirt and filth, with incompetent teachers and antiquated school books. Great men have come from such schools, but the number that have fallen by the wayside, because these schools did not give the help they should have given, no man can number.

Every country school should be a school of agriculture. The children there ought to be taught some of the laws of Nature's system of economics, something of the beautiful mysteries of the soil, the chemical transformation that goes on in order that the things that perish in the ground may be reproduced in the crops.

WEDNESDAY.... FEBRUARY 22

PROMINENT CITIZEN OF MADISONVILLE

Ends Life With Carbolic Acid—
Sad Taking Off of E. G.
Ashby.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 17.—E. J. Ashby, one of the most prominent citizens of Madisonville and owner of a large dry goods establishment here, ended his life this morning by drinking a bottle of carbolic acid. Mr. Ashby arose from his bed about 4:30 o'clock and went down stairs, as is his custom, to kindle a fire in the stove.

After waiting for fifteen or twenty minutes for his return, his wife realized that something was wrong and hastily dressed. She did not find him in the kitchen and went out into the woodhouse and there found him lying on the ground unconscious, a glass and carbolic acid bottle by his side. There was still life in the body and she immediately summoned a physician, but death came within a few minutes after he was found.

The motive given by Mr. Ashby's relatives for his death is that he was in ill health and knew that he would soon be forced to give up active business life with which he was closely attached.

Twenty years ago Mr. Ashby moved to Madisonville from the country and built up a splendid trade. He managed every detail of his business and had been urged in vain by his family to take a vacation. Constant application brought on chronic rheumatism. The disease had gradually grown worse.

No inquest was held over the body as his family requested the county officials to dispense with it. Mr. Ashby was 46 years of age and is survived by his wife and two children and a sister and brother. The funeral will take place to-morrow at the residence. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Ashby secured the bottle of carbolic acid at a local drug store Thursday night, stating that he wanted to use it as a disinfectant.

Do you know that croup can be prevented? Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It is also a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Sold by all dealers.

MORE THAN 14,000,000
CATHOLICS IN THE U. S.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 20.—There are at present 14,618,761 Roman Catholics in the United States, according to the 1911 Wiltzus official Catholic directory, which is now in press. The figures given do not include the Catholics in the Philippines, Porto Rico or Hawaiian Islands, for if these were added, the number of Roman Catholics under the Stars and Stripes would be nearly 23,000,000.

Although the United States religious census of 1906 credits the Roman Catholic faith with only 12,079,142, the Wiltzus figures are not exaggerated, as the Census Bureau deducted 15 per cent. of its total count for children, counting only communicants.

According to the directory there are in the United States 17,084 Catholic priests and 18,481 churches. Catholics also control 4,972 parochial schools, with an attendance of 1,270,131. In addition to this there are 225 colleges for boys and 696 academies for girls and 82 ecclesiastical seminaries.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED IN SUNNY SOUTHLAND

Notice of the marriage of Mrs. Maude Monroe Taylor, in December has just reached us through clipping from a Southern paper. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of the late Felix Monroe, of Beaver Dam. The notice follows:

Florala, Ala., Dec. 31.—An interesting event of Thursday evening was the wedding of two of Florala's most popular young people, Mrs. Maude Monroe Taylor and Mr. Walter Brown.

The wedding occurred at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Mabry on Fifth street, which was attractive and inviting with Christmas greens, among which handsome white chrysanthemums gleamed.

Mrs. Mabry welcomed her guests in the living room, where the artistic decorations were green and red. Delicious fruit punch was served by the hostess.

The guests were assembled in the parlor to await the bridal party. Here white and green colors were prettily blended. Promptly at nine o'clock the happy young couple entered and the Rev. Mr. McIver performed the sacred ceremony.

Mrs. J. F. Collins, of Hartford, Ala., acted as matron of honor, the bride's only attendant. After the ceremony the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Crowley, served a tempting salad course.

The bride was beautiful in a golden brown messaline prettily trimmed with velvet to match, and golden embroidery introduced about the bodice. Hat, shoes and gloves to match the costume completed the charming effect. Mrs. Brown has made a host of friends since making Florala her home and possesses a charming personality. Mr. Brown is well known, being one of Florala's foremost business men.

FORDSVILLE BANKING
COMPANY ASSIGNS

Closed Its Doors Last Thursday
—Dr. McCarty Named as Assignee.

The Fordsville Banking Company, by action of its stockholders at a meeting held late Thursday evening, filed a deed of assignment and arranged for the institution to go into liquidation. Dr. J. W. McCarty, of Owensboro, was made the assignee. It is said there is considerable bad paper on hand which has been carried a long time, but nevertheless the board of directors estimate that the resources will pay depositors in full.

The wedding occurred at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Mabry on Fifth street, which was attractive and inviting with Christmas greens, among which handsome white chrysanthemums gleamed.

GREENBRIER.

Feb. 20.—Farmers of this community took advantage of the recent fair weather by sowing oats, fencing, burning plant beds and some corn ground was broken.

The price being paid for tobacco under the pooling system is causing many farmers to contemplate a crop who haven't raised any for some years.

A very enjoyable social was given at the residence of Mr. H. A. Wilson last Saturday night.

Mr. George Fulton is reported to be very low of heart trouble.

Little Miss Corinne Shultz is spending this week at Beaver Dam, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Kate Davis.

Mr. Alvin Chinn, who is attending school at Shultztown, visited the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chinn, Saturday and Sunday.

Messrs. R. H. Wallace and Cy. Chinn each lost a valuable horse last week.

Prof. Guy S. Hazelrigg, of Beaver Dam, recently closed a very successful school at this place.

Many patrons and visitors were present the last day, which was spent with appropriate exercises consisting of recitations, dialogues, drills, plays and songs. At the close a pair of gold cuff buttons were presented to him as a token of esteem and friendship from his pupils, whose voices faltered and whose eyes filled with tears at the thought of saying "good-bye."

We voice the sentiment of many in this community when we say amen! to the sentiment of your correspondent of last week, writing on our "Representative form of Government," signing himself "XX." Men like him are certainly needed in this day of dreams and dreamers, of visionaries and visionaries. Come again, Mr. XX, and give us more of such homely wisdom and sound logic, the fruits of which will be treasured in the minds and hearts of all whose fortune it is to peruse the columns of our excellent county paper, The Hartford Herald.

COURT DECISION TAKES AWAY ATTORNEY'S FEE

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—Due to the efforts of Miss Ora L. Adams, superintendent of the county schools of Mercer county, Attorney C. E. Rankin, who secured a fee of $1,000 in the lower court for services rendered H. H. Walker, former county superintendent, will not receive the fee.

The Court of Appeals to-day reversed the judgment of the Mercer Circuit Court in the case of the County Board of Education of Mercer county against Rankin, and gave him a severe arraignment for neglecting his duty as attorney for Superintendent Walker, who had received a judgment of $10,000 against D. C. Heath & Co., publishers, for alleged violation of contract.

Rankin had compromised with the publishers for $2,200 after receiving the $10,000 judgment, which the Court of Appeals says was a flagrant neglect of duty, which deprived the State not only of $7,800, but put it to a large expense in testing the law in the case.

BURLEY DISTRICT EXPECTS TO CUT OUT 1911 CROP

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 20.—The Burley Tobacco Union to-day voted to cut out the crop for this year, with practically every delegate present being instructed to vote for this movement.

The amount of acreage that can be pledged to the "cut out" is said to be doubtful because of the apparent indifference of the Burley Tobacco society. A communication was sent to the older body asking it to call a convention of its members from Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio to endorse to-day's vote.

The result of the meeting is regarded in some quarters as presaging the resumption of night riding and similar disorders, as reports hitherto received show the growers are generally inclined to the belief that a crop should be raised this year and none in 1912.

A BROOMSGAGE FIRE
CAUSED MUCH ALARM

A fire originating in a broomsgage field on the Thomas Hewlett farm at Pleasant Ridge, threatened to do great damage Thursday afternoon when it gained headway despite the efforts of some men to control it, and spread from the field to other parts of the farm and partly destroyed the milkhouse on the farm of Benjamin Johnson. The flames were finally extinguished, no great damage having been done, although it was thought at one time that the Johnson home would be burned.

THE POST OFFICE ROBBED
AT RICHMOND, IND.

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 18.—The post-office safe at Centerville, near here, was cracked early to-day by robbers, who escaped. They secured 5,000 in cash, and a like amount in stamps. They escaped with a horse and buggy which they had stolen from the son of State Senator Cummings and road westward. Nitroglycerin was used to open the safe. No one was awakened by the explosion. The theft was not discovered until the post-office was opened this morning.
